

The Bremen Town Musicians

The farmer said "You are old and gray. Go away." The donkey became sad.

"I'm going to Bremen Town to become a musician" said the donkey.
And he left

The hunter said "You are old and gray. Go away." The dog became sad.

"Come with me." said the donkey. "To where?" asked the dog. "I'm going to Bremen Town to become a musician" said the donkey. The dog joined the donkey and the two animals left.

The woman said "You are old and gray. Go away." The cat became sad.

"Come with us." said the dog. "To where?" asked the cat. "We 're going to Bremen to become musicians" said the dog. The dog joined the donkey and the dog and the three animals left.

The farmer's wife said "You are old and gray. Go away." The rooster became sad.

"Come with us." said the cat. "To where?" asked the rooster "We 're going to Bremen to become musicians" said the cat. The rooster joined the donkey, dog, and cat and the three animals left.

Soon it was night. "I'm tired. Said the donkey. 'I'm hungry.'" said the dog. "I'm cold." said the cat. "I'm sleepy." said the rooster.

"Let's go to that house." said the donkey.

Inside the house were four robbers, lots of food for the hungry dog, a fireplace for the cold cat, and beds for the tired donkey and sleepy rooster.

"Let's sing and scare away the robbers." said the donkey.

The four animals began to sing and the robbers became terrified.
"Ghosts!!!" screamed the robbers.

The robbers ran away and the animals had a feast.

The robbers went back to the house. The house was pitch black.
"Maybe the ghosts have gone." said a robber.

A robber turned on the light and the donkey kicked him in the head.

The dog bit his ankle

The cat scratched his face

The rooster crowed and pecked at his hat.

The robbers ran away and the animals slept peacefully in their new home.
